

Abstract of the Disclosure:

A chip card module is provided for insertion into a card body. The chip card module has at least one component, for example a keypad, fitted on an intermediate carrier configured in the 5 card body. The intermediate carrier is a functional constituent part of the at least one component.

MPW/nt